

PILOT MOUNTAIN BIOME

Of anywhere on the continent this biome has experienced the most extensive suffering and events of karma or unresolved memories. With the trans global European ley (The City Ley) bisecting this Star Biome, the memories of two millennia of European warfare are also played out in this region. Note how the Confederate state capitals lock into the Pilot's pentagram.

Ley Lines that cross this biome all have phi sequencing that connects memories and karmic events to humans, a phi organism. Of note are the events of 9/11 that transpired and are associated with the leys and Pilot Mountain's star biome patterns.

Highlighted by this land geometry is the 'Catfish' Hunter Foundation', in Hertford, NC, a focus point of ALS research. ALS is best known because of its two most famous victims, NY Yankee baseball players; Lou Giregh and Catfish Hunter.

Baseball's association with the Hertford site speaks to our national connection to the land. Baseball is seen as archetype of the American experience- with its competitive play between group and individual. The geometry of the baseball diamond is a known and honored landscape geometry.

Cultural disaffection to place and artificially contrived experience of land, such as baseball and golf, in a general way disconnects the human nervous system from the nervous system of the earth (represented by the ley lines). It is through reconnection with the land that social and personal health is accessible. In the Grail Myth the Fisher King and the Land are one". In this case Baseball kings and the land are one. Heal the land and the king will be healed and vice versa.

Hertford is located on a ley that radiates from the center of the North American continental plate. The featured sites along this ley include Hertford, NYC, Shelburne Falls (the center of the North American Tectonic Plate), and Mt. Moosilauke (the center of the White Mountains). This ley has a phi ratio sequence marked by the features of Hertford, NYC, and Mt. Moosilauke. This ley line is further delineated by Mid Atlantic coastal peninsulas and outlets of rivers and bays into the ocean. This ley is similar in attribute to the Maritime Ley along Down East Maine. The South Coastal Ley is seen as a flush line for the karma of the City Ley, as is the Maritime Ley. This South Coast Ley has a common site with the City Ley in NYC. It is from the NYC portal, along the City Ley, that Hertford receive the Karma or unresolved memories of Europe and the American south. Hertford is also in alignment via a ley with the Oil Biome, via New Madrid fault and the Trail of Tears. Phi sequencing is at play with these leys.

Hertford lies on the edge of the Southern Biome and like some other ALS sites, it lies at intersection points of ley and biome. The Southern or Pilot Mountain Biome has many unresolved memories associated with it: Washington DC and the experiences of the Civil War, and the Trail of Tears, slavery

The center point of the biome is Pilot Mt., a sacred site that Native people reserved for Creator Beings. A 30 miles radius around Pilot was considered off limits to the local tribes. The star pentagram drawn points to locations of the biome's ring that are collective karma release points, such as, Charleston, Atlanta, Hertford, Shanksville.
